SUNDAY ..... OCTOBER 21, 1894. The Dying Czar.

That the days of Alexander III. are numbered seems no longer to admit of prestion, and in the foreign capitals tempts" to enter houses, cars, vessels, poculation is rife as to what will be &c., to commit robbery, &c., but we have the effect of his death upon the European lituation. This speculation assumes varied phases, some of which are far from optimistic, the more gloomy view being inspired by the uncertainty that pe exists as to the character, ability, and probable policy of the Czarowitz.

By the way, several of our weekly exchanges are publishing at the head of their columns what purports to be a correct synopsis of the Walton law, but which, in fact, has several omissions and misstatements. No officer of election should be guided by any unofficial digest of the law. If the law isn't plain, let the officer rely upon the opinion of Judge Simmons and that of Attorney-General R. Taylor Scott. Following these strictly the officer cannot but be held blameless in the discharge of his duty.

Hon. Joseph W. Babcock, chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, claims that the Republicans will have 190 members in the next House of Representatives-eleven more than quorum. Such claims are easily made Mr. Faulkner, however, the chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, is of a very different opinion He claims that the Democrats will have a majority in the next House of Representatives. Seeing that in the existing House the Democrats have 218 members, or 39 more than a quorum, the forecast John Bell Bigger called attention in his of Mr. Faulkner would seem to be mucbetter founded than that of Mr. Babcock. When using general terms, it is always easy to make large claims; but when it comes to making a list of the congressional districts in which the Republicans expect to secure their gains, it is not so easy to make out even a plausible case. Mr. Babcock, for example, claims a gain of eleven members in the States of Missouri, Tennessee, and New York-just enough, as we have said, to give to the Republicans a majority in the next House. But all such calculations or estimates are unreliable. It concerns us here in Virginia to know that our State is also one of those in which the Republicans expect to make we will go to work in earnest if we learn that "our district" is in danger, let "our district" be where it may. We cannot do too much for the good cause, let us work where we will, for every doubtful dis trict, if there be any doubtful ones, bor ders upon some district which is considered safe beyond a peradventure, and will afford good electioneering ground for the workers and speakers of the districts which are not doubtful. Let us, at any rate, resolve to do our duty, let others do as they may. The loss of the next House of Representatives would be a blow from which the Democratic party, and therefore the country, would suffer deplorably.

Where Are His Enemies?

When Charles II, was on his way to London, to be there crowned King, the crowds of people who flocked to see him were so large that he asked, "Where are my enemies?" He had been all his life a sort of fugitive, and had learned to regard even the people whom he claimed | the geraniums my wife has at home. the right to rule as his enemies. No wonder he was surprised to find none but who assembled at all places along the ine of march to witness his "progress."

Peculiar reports have come to the of-fice of the Chief of Police regarding the fice of the Chief of Police regarding the slieged santbagging on Thursday nicht of John O. Morris, one of the City-Hall firemen. Major Poe has been informed that Morris was not robbed of his money and Oatch, but lost the cash upon Poverty, one of the horses in the Exposition races that afternoon, and pawned his timeplece. As to the sand-bagging frature of the case, the Major cannot say.

> Mr. Waish, one of the City-Hall officials, got into the report of the affair. Mr. Waish was in no way assaulted or rebbed. IT STOPS THE PROGRESS of Consumption The makers of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are certain of it.
> They've proved it for years past—and they're willing to sell it with the agreement that if it with the agreement that it is doesn't benefit or cure in every case, they'll return the money. Consumption is that serofulous condition that comes from impure blood. The "Discovery" prevents it, if taken in time; cures it completely, if you haven't waited too long; gives relief and comfort, even in advanced cases.
